Stone Sheep is one of the rarest animals in world, only found in the northern regions of British Columbia and in the southern part of Yukon. Besides the challenging way of hunting, the rarity of this specie makes the hunt for the Stone Sheep ram so sought after.

At Williston Lake Outfitters, we will be hunting Stone Sheep from horseback, riding through the magnificent high mountains. Spending a lot of time behind binoculars, it is highly recommended that you bring as highest quality optics you can. Being in good physical condition will help you stalk the steep mountain sides. This high-country animal is smart and very wary. Be prepared for some long-distance shooting!

On the day of your arrival at our main camp, you will have time to check your rifle or your bow at our shooting ranges, have time to relax and get everything packed and ready for the hunt. The day after your arrival, we will take you to one of our camp sites, where the horses are waiting to take you far out in the back country of our mountains. You will set up a spike camp, have a nice hot meal and a good night's sleep before your first hunting day!

A true wilderness hunting adventure is waiting for you!
